Teleflex Announces $300 Million Share Repurchase Program

June 14, 2007

LIMERICK, Pa.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--June 14, 2007--Teleflex Incorporated (NYSE:TFX) announced today that its Board of Directors has authorized the repurchase of up to $300 million of the company's outstanding common shares.

"Our strong balance sheet and cash flow generation capability enable us to deliver value to shareholders through share repurchases and the payment of cash dividends while continuing to invest in our current business and in acquisitions," stated Jeffrey P. Black, chairman and chief executive officer. "This authorization reflects our confidence in the Company's strategic direction and our ongoing commitment to increasing shareholder value."

Repurchases of Teleflex stock under the program announced today will be made from time to time in the open market and may include privately-negotiated transactions as market conditions warrant and subject to regulatory considerations. The stock repurchase program does not have an expiration date and the Company's ability to execute on the program will depend on, among other factors, cash requirements for acquisitions, cash generation from operations, debt repayment obligations, market conditions and regulatory requirements.

Teleflex is a diversified company with 2006 annual revenues of $2.5 billion. The company designs, manufactures and distributes quality engineered products and services for the commercial, medical and aerospace markets worldwide. Teleflex employs more than 19,000 people worldwide who focus on providing innovative solutions for customers.
