Teleflex Presents at the Bank Of America Health Care Conference

May 30, 2007

Limerick, PA – Jeffrey P. Black, chairman and chief executive officer, Teleflex Incorporated, presented at the 2007 Bank of America Health Care Conference at the Four Seasons Hotel in Las Vegas, NV on Wednesday, May 30.

In his presentation Mr. Black provided an overview of Teleflex Medical, discussed recent initiatives in the Medical Segment and reiterated the company's previously-stated guidance. The company continues to expect diluted earnings per share from continuing operations for the full year 2007 before restructuring charges and gains will be in the range of $4.05 to $4.25. Slides and an audio webcast of the presentation are available on the Teleflex website at www.teleflex.com.

Teleflex is a diversified company with 2006 annual revenues of $2.5 billion. The company designs, manufactures and distributes quality-engineered products and services for the commercial, medical and aerospace markets worldwide. Teleflex employs more than 19,000 people worldwide who focus on providing innovative solutions for customers. Additional information about Teleflex can be obtained from the company's website on the Internet at www.teleflex.com. Caution concerning forward-looking information

This press release contains forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, statements relating to our forecasted 2007 diluted earnings per share from continuing operations excluding restructuring charges and gains. Actual results could differ materially from those in these forward-looking statements due to, among other things, conditions in the end markets we serve, customer reaction to new products and programs, our ability to achieve projected sales growth, price increases or cost reductions, and efficiencies, changes in material costs and surcharges, unanticipated difficulties in connection with consolidation of manufacturing and administrative functions; changes in general and international economic conditions and other factors described in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.