

Teleflex Awarded New Agreement by Novation for Arrow® Intra-Aortic Balloon Catheters and Pumps

November 12, 2013

LIMERICK, Pa.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 12, 2013-- Teleflex Incorporated (NYSE: TFX), a leading global provider of medical devices for critical care and surgery, has announced it was recently awarded a new agreement from Novation for its complete line of Arrow® Intra-Aortic Balloon Catheters and Pumps. Novation is a leading health care supply chain expertise, analytics and contracting services organization.

The agreement, effective January 1, 2014, will provide the more than 65,000 members served by Novation with a variety of offerings from Teleflex, including the AutoCAT®2 WAVE® Intra-Aortic Balloon Pump with the proprietary wave algorithm that detects the aortic valve closure point for each beat as it occurs. This technology enables accurate timing based on the individual characteristics of each heartbeat, as it occurs in real time, even during severe arrhythmia. Teleflex also provides a wide range of IAB catheters with unique features such as a wire reinforced catheter body to reduce the risk of kinking.

"We are proud to partner with Novation through the new agreement which provides hospital members the advanced Arrow® Intra-Aortic Balloon Technology from Teleflex for treating patients with severe cardiac events," said Howard Miller, President, Cardiac Care Division of Teleflex.
