ATI Announces Investor Relations Leadership Transition

07/28/17

PITTSBURGH--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Allegheny Technologies Incorporated (NYSE:ATI) today announced that Scott A. Minder has been named Vice President, Investor Relations. Mr. Minder succeeds Danny L. Greenfield who informed the Company he will retire in early 2018. Mr. Minder will report to Patrick J. DeCourcy, Senior Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer. Mr. Greenfield will serve as Vice President and Special Assistant to the CFO until his retirement, to help ensure a smooth transition of ATI's investor relations leadership.

'We are pleased to have Scott Minder join our team," said Rich Harshman, ATI's Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Scott has extensive financial management experience, including investor relations, in large global manufacturing businesses that serve markets relevant to ATI. He is an outstanding addition to ATI's financial leadership team.

"Mr. Greenfield has led ATI's investor relations efforts for the past sixteen years. On behalf of the Board of Directors and all of the employees of ATI, I want to extend our appreciation and gratitude to Dan for his 35 years of service to ATI."

Prior to joining ATI, Mr. Minder held several finance leadership positions at PPG Industries, Inc., most recently as Director, Investor Relations, and prior to that as Global Business Controller for Industrial and Packaging Coatings. Prior to joining PPG he held financial leadership positions at General Motors and Penske Logistics. His career experiences span the finance function in areas such as acquisitions, statistics, pricing, risk management, multi-national financial reporting, and investor relations, and include experience outside the United States with businesses in Europe, Asia and Latin America. Mr. Minder holds a B.S. in Management Finance/Accounting from GMI Engineering & Management Institute, and was selected for GM's prestigious fellowship program, completing his MBA at Duke University.
