The Stack-and-Shred 60X joins the popular Stack-and-Shred 100X paper shredder that differentiates itself from competition with Hands Free Auto+(TM) technology that automatically rolls and feeds paper into the cutters, so you don't have to. Like its predecessor, the 60X is tailored to work the way that you do--efficiently. It offers quiet operation, an easy user interface, and compact design that fits neatly under your desk for quick access. The Stack-and-Shred 60X is built for productivity and durability, so whether you are shredding paper, staples, paperclips or credit cards, you can cut your workload and spend your time, your way.

"Regardless of which documents a user will be shredding or how often, the entire family of Stack-and-Shred paper shredders offers a smart feature set and secure cross-cut shredding that anyone--from work-at-home mom to entrepreneur or CEO-- will appreciate," said Jed Peters, Vice President of U.S. Marketing, ACCO Brands. "Users can also rest easy knowing that even their most confidential paperwork will be properly destroyed as they enjoy an extra measure of productivity."

Swingline also has expanded its popular Stack-and-Shred family of paper shredders with the addition and immediate availability of the Stack-and-Shred 80X, Stack-and-Shred 250X and Stack-and-Shred 500X. Whether it's home office use, a small office environment or corporate setting, Swingline has a shredder to best suit your needs and your budget.

Introducing the Swingline Stack-and-Shred Family of Shredders
