

Quartet® Takes Bulletin Board Offering to the Next Level

January 12, 2015

Introducing Prestige® 2 Magnetic Cork

LAKE ZURICH, Ill., Jan. 12, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Fast paced environments demand effective and multi-functional communication tools that stand up to frequent, daily use and heavy traffic. To answer this need, Quartet has created Prestige® 2 Magnetic Cork Bulletin Boards, enhancing the functionality of a traditional cork board.

The large grain cork boards are backed by steel, magnetizing the cork so that announcements and similar printed materials can be posted and displayed without the need for push pins. The new cork boards are compatible with Quartet Prestige 2 Connects™ Accessories, which attach directly onto the board frame. Magnetic cork boards are available in four sizes that are well-suited for shared communication and offer four modern aluminum frame selections: silver finish, black finish, mahogany finish and graphite finish.

- Dual posting option: push pins or magnets for flexibility
- Self-healing cork surface hides unsightly pin holes
- Pass-through mounting for easy installation
- 10 year warranty

Senior Marketing Manager for Quartet, Todd Marshall, had this to say about the new product offering: "The Quartet brand is dedicated to providing products that help people think, organize, communicate and collaborate. With the successful launch of our Prestige 2 whiteboards we were able to deliver high style and high performance whiteboards that were designed to keep accessories organized and close at hand. We're pleased to now extend that fresh design and enhanced accessory experience in to our new, innovative line of Prestige 2 magnetic cork boards."

Quartet Prestige 2 Connects Accessories are compatible with the Quartet Prestige 2 Magnetic Cork Boards. These aptly named accessories connect into specialized notches along the back of the board frame. The Quartet Prestige 2 Connects™ Accessory Storage cup, flipchart extension arm and flipchart hooks offer plenty of options to keep accessories nearby. Two magnets are included, and a wide array of additional magnets are available for purchase on the Quartet website. Stay tuned for many more exciting things to come.
