15 Describe the quantitative effect of the orga	anizational action on the basis of the securit	y in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis \triangleright T	he character of a distribution as either a	dividend or return of capital for federal income tax rmation set forth in this Form is based on estimates as of the date the Form is posted to FE's pub	lic website. Estimates can change through	ghout the year and, if they do, FE will file a corrected
Form for impacted distributions pursuant to a	applicable Treasury Regulations.
Based on the current estimates, approximately 100% of the distributions paid on June 1, 2023 and March 1, 2023 are not dividends and will be treated as nontaxable return of capital to the extent of the shareholders' tax basis. Tax basis in the common shares will be reduced by the amount of the nontaxable portion of the distribution. Any amount in excess of a shareholder's tax basis will be treated as gain for US federal income tax purposes. Shareholders should consult their own tax advisors to determine the income tax consequences of their specific situation. FE is providing this Form for informational purposes only and not as legal or tax advice.
consequences of their specific situation. FE	is providing this Form for informationary	our poses offly and not as legal of tax davise.

16 Describe the calculation of the change in t	pasis and the data that supports the calcula	tion, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ▶ Pursuant to Internal Revenue Code sections 301(c) and 316(a), the taxability of the distribution is based on FE's earnings and profits as computed for U.S. federal income tax purposes. FE's estimated current and accumulated earnings and profits applicable to 2023 distributions supports the disclosure that approximately 100% of the June 1, 2023 and March 1, 2023 distribution is a nontaxable return of capital to the extent of the shareholders' tax basis.
