Diebold Nixdorf Names Manish Choudhary as Senior Vice President, Software

April 2, 2020

NORTH CANTON, Ohio – Diebold Nixdorf (NYSE: DBD), a world leader in driving connected commerce for the banking and retail industries, announced Manish Choudhary has joined the company as senior vice president, software. In this role, Choudhary leads the organization's global software business for both banking and retail customers, focused on accelerating the company's innovation while driving sustainable growth.

Choudhary has more than 20 years of experience in technology, innovation and business services, with extensive knowledge of transforming complex organizations in both physical and digital technologies.

Choudhary has held senior leadership roles in several global companies, focused on digital transformation leveraging analytics, innovation, customer insight and financial rigor. Prior to joining Diebold Nixdorf, Choudhary served as senior vice president and general manager of Sending Technology Solutions at Pitney Bowes, Inc., where he developed strong customer and partner relationships to drive portfolio modernization and new value offerings with capabilities in SaaS, Internet of Things, cloud, data and analytics, and artificial intelligence.

Gerrard Schmid, Diebold Nixdorf president and chief executive officer, said: "We are thrilled to have Manish join our team. His experience with business transformation, managing the intersection of physical and digital products and technologies and understanding trends in the market make him an ideal leader to accelerate the company's software position in the retail and banking industries."
