

Diebold Brings Latest Concepts And Technology To Southeast Asia ATMs Conference In Indonesia

March 9, 2015

JAKARTA, Indonesia – Diebold, Incorporated (NYSE: DBD) will share its latest insights and innovations at ATMIAs 2015 Southeast Asia ATMs Conference, March 10-11 in Jakarta, Indonesia. In booth #5-6, Diebold experts will discuss the latest trends in the financial industry and highlight a number of recently announced solutions designed to transform financial institutions businesses.

Devon Watson, Diebold's vice president, new business and solution incubation, will discuss new omni-channel concepts that merge digital and physical channels for both self- and assisted service. This presentation will illustrate how Diebold blends hardware, software, services and emerging technologies with user-centric design to transform what it means to be served and rethink the branch of the future.

Additionally, Diebold will showcase its new self-service platform which is designed to transform the overall banking experience for financial institutions (FIs) and consumers:

- Diebold 9900: Designed to deliver the fast, reliable in-branch experience consumers want, by migrating routine transactions and services to the self- and assisted service channel. The flexible, modular and upgradable platform can adapt to an individual FI's unique branch strategy and provides advanced transactions such as account opening and card issuance and replacement.
- Diebold 5500: Offers reduced power consumption and integrated battery backup, while its advanced technology increases reliability and lowers total cost of ownership. It also delivers advanced security and consumer-orientated features such as multi-touch display, near field communication (NFC) and biometrics.
- Diebold 3700: Extends uptime between cash replenishment visits with cash recycling technology, facilitates a full set of transactions with deposit automation capabilities and provides all this in a footprint nearly as small as cash-only units with a low total cost of ownership, maximizing growth opportunities.
